The first term Exam

The text :

Last weekend, Sami was a part of a TV program. He talked about his grandparents' lifestyle in the past and what changes now.

"When my father was young, he used to live in a small farm in the north of a Turkish village. His parents used to raise animals, cows, sheep and chicken. They used to get up early to feed animals and get milk from cows. They used to go to the forest to bring wood to cook their meals on the stove. In that time, they ate food, which came from their garden. They ate natural food (fruits and vegetables), milk and homemade bread. They used to travel on animals like horses, donkeys or on foot all day.

In addition, they used to wear what they made by their hands. In general, they used to wear traditional clothes; for example women used to wear long dresses with headscarf and men used to wear Turkish trousers called "Salvar". At that time, children went to the mosques to learn the Koran and in their free time they used to play simple games like hopscotch and marbles.

Life then was hard not like nowadays which becomes easier thanks to technological development and modern appliances ."
