Text

Ahmed Messali Hadj was an Algerian nationalist politician leader. He is often called as “the father of Algerian nationalism”. This famous leader was born on May 16th, 1898 in Tlemecen, where he grew up, and learnt the Holy Quran and received a religious education, he also was educated in a local French primary school. Later, he founded the (ENA) “North African Star” (1926-1937), the (PPA) “Algerian People Star” (1937-1939), the (MTLD) “Movement for the Triumph of Democratic Liberties” (1946-1956) before dissociating himself from the armed struggle for independence in 1954. He also founded the (MNA) “Algerian National Movement” (1954) to counteract the on-going efforts of the (FLN).

Messali Hadj defended his land and protected the Algerian values, langues and religion to keep the Algerian unified against their enemy. Consequently, he became one of the most prominent Algerian nationalists seeking to remove all French forces and to end the French colonial rule in Algeria. He died on June 3rd, 1974 in Paris, France.
